

HubHub

It's where Europe's hottest talent come to scale their businesses up to the next level and now they have Billi Taps to take their hydration to new heights

Overview

Located in the trendy and design oriented area of Farringdon in Clerkenwell, HubHub's brand new office helps bring together like-minded talent and a culture of opportunity, creating the perfect environment for making extraordinary things happen in a truly unique co-working space.

Set over 4 floors the 34,000 square foot office has an industrial chic vibe with the bright HubHub branding visible in splashes across the area. It is home to over 700 members who use it to work, network and participate in a multitude of events.

HubHub
London

The challenge - boiling, chilled and sparkling systems to provide efficient and sustainable hydration solutions

HubHub wanted to provide their clients and staff with the very best in filtered hydration systems, ones that would fit into the modern and industrial look of the interior, whilst helping to enhance HubHub's drive for sustainability.

Solution

They went ahead with Billi Quadra Sparkling Plus 9 units in Matte Black with matching Gooseneck mixer taps. Providing instant access to boiling, chilled and sparkling filtered water through the XL Lever dispensers, as well as hot and cold water from the mixer taps. The Matte Black finish allows the taps to fit seamlessly into HubHub's aesthetics with the dispensers standing out as key reference points in the kitchen and tea point areas.

"The design and finish of the Billi taps fit effortlessly into our office. With a range of different clients using our space to work and network, the taps provide the perfect hydration solution, keeping productivity high and helping to maintain a high standard of wellbeing. More so than ever it is important to become sustainable and Billi have helped HubHub achieve that."

Elena Malara
HubHub

